

AQA A-level Psychology

TOPIC SUMMARIES

Paper 1

A-LEVEL
PSYCHOLOGY
TUTOR

Marie Buckley

Thank you for downloading this resource, I hope you find it useful!

My students absolutely love using topic summaries! As simple as they are, they are one of the most popular resources. I designed them to help students create strong schemas for each topic on the AQA A-level Psychology course. These summaries create a framework of knowledge to assist students in ensuring they can access the relevant key terms for each subtopic on the specification.

Suggested way of using the Topic Summaries

- I would primarily recommend this document to be an active tool used at the end of each subtopic to consolidate the key terms and key evaluation points you need to know. As you complete each subtopic, you should briefly write down key terms, concepts, and information that needs to be accessible for that specific subtopic. Once you have completed it, you will have a very concise overview of all the information you need to know to be successful.
- The topic summaries can also be used as a revision tool. You can print off blank copies of the topic summaries to test how much you can recall for each topic. Once you cannot recall any more information, you can use your notes to complete the topic summaries in another colour. This way, you will clearly identify the areas that require further revision. Ideally, you would repeat this process until you can recall all the key terms and evaluation points without error.
- You could also use this document in conjunction with the Essay Planning booklet. The topic summary would then become an essay plan and you could use the Essay Planning booklet to write out a full 16-mark essay using the key terms and evaluation points in the topic summary.

By keeping organised and approaching the A-level Psychology course systematically, you can ensure that you don't overlook any content, and it will greatly enhance your preparation for the crucial exams.

Good luck!

Marie

Other resources for AQA A-level Psychology which you may find useful are:

- PowerPoint Lessons
- Cornell Notes booklets
- Essay Planning booklets
- Revision Notes
- A* Evaluation booklets
- Revision Activities booklets
- Doodle Notes
- Topic Essays

Topic Summary Social Influence

	AO1	AO3
Conformity: types and explanations
Asch line study & variations
The Stanford Prison Experiment
Milgram baseline study
Situational variables affecting obedience

	AO1	AO3
Explanations of obedience
Authoritarian personality
Resistance to social influence
Minority influence
Social influence and social change

Marie is an experienced Head of Psychology, private tutor, examiner and author. She is a qualified teacher with an MSc Psychology, MBA and LLB (Hons) Law degree. She loves helping students achieve their potential by creating high quality resources - that work.

For free study advice and more resources visit www.alevelpsychologytutor.co.uk

Marie

A-LEVEL
PSYCHOLOGY
TUTOR

www.alevelpsychologytutor.co.uk